How do West Point Independent's academics compare to the Hardin County schools that our students might attend?

West Point Independent Elementary and Middle School both have a Kentucky Department of Education rating of 1 Star (out of a possible 5). All of the Hardin County schools that West Point students would possibly attend are 3 Star schools. In addition, Hardin County currently has 43 Nationally Certified Board Teachers (NBCT) across the district.

Will middle school and elementary students be allowed to apply to a Hardin County school (as high school students can) outside of their assigned school within the district?

They can certainly apply at the preferred school but the school that they are interested in attending has to be under capacity and have availability. Also, parents need to provide transportation to that school.
